TOUGH CHICKEN.—"Tough, madam, tough, did you say?" said the irascible boarder to the landlady, as he was trying to carvo what was ostensibly a chicken—"Yes'm; and were I to give my opinion on the fowi, I should say it was old enough to have scratched up the seeds of original sin when they were first planted."

An old lady in Arkansas had a great aversion to rye, and never could eat it in any form. "Till of late." said she, "they have got to making it into whisky, and I find that I can now and then worry down a little."

A lady told her husband she had read the Art of Love on purpose to be agreeable to him. "I had rather have your love without art," replied he.

One of the best "hits" ever made at an impropriety in a lady's dress was mad by Talleyrand. During the revolution, when asked by a lady his opinion of her dress, he replied, "It began too late and ended too soon."

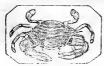

A garrulous fop, who had annoyed, by his frivolous remarks, his partner in the ball-room, among other empty nothings, asked whether "she had ever had her ears pierced?" "No," was the reply, "but I've often had them bored!"

¹N THE SLAUGHTERING BUSINESS.—When Gen. Longstreet was passing through Maryland, a lady asked of a high private in his army, "What division is this?" "It's Gen. Longstreet's," replied our friend. "Well, I hope they may all be slaughtered, replied the lady. "As to that, madam, I want you to understand that Gen. Longstreet is in the slaughtering business himself."

A witty fellow slipped down on an icy pavement. While sitting, he muttered. "I have no desire to see the town burned down, but I sincerely wish the streets were laid in ashes."

An inquisitive priest having asked a young lady her name in confessional, she replied, with as much of wit as of modesty, "Father, my name is not a sin."

A lawyer, not over young nor handsome, examining a young lady witness in court, determined to perplex her, and said: "Miss, upon my word, you are very pretty!" The young lady very premptly replied: "I would return the compliment, sir, if I were not on oath."

An elderly maiden lady requests the insertion of the following: BAD TASTE—Pretty young girls kissing widowers' children.

A GOOD ONE.—As our army was passing through Maryland last fall, a union lady addressed a soldier connected with a Lynchburg company, thus:

"Why don't your men dress neat like our soldiers, instead of being in rags? It's a disgrace for Jeff. Davis to let you go about in this manner."

That's easily accounted for," said the soldier, "when Jeff. Davis sends us to slaughter hogs, he don't allow us to wear our nice clothes."

A friend of ours, in Jackson's army, tells us that when Jackson makes the discovery that his linens are dirty, he orders his boys to charge on the nearest Yankee regiment, and after driving them away, changes his dirty clothes for theirs, leaving his own with his compliments, for the consideration of their laundry-masters.

[&]quot;Paddy why don't you get your ears cropped—they are too long for a man?" "And yours." replied Pat, "ought to be lengthened—they are too short for an ass."

A Texan and an Illinois furner were speaking of raising corn, &c. and the Illinois man was boasting of the superior yield of prairie land, and telling large stories, as all western men do, to which the Texan replied: "I'll tell you what, stranger, they make large corn in your clearing, but it ain't a circumstance to what we raise in the Colorado bottoms. Why the corn there averages thirty feet in height, with twelve ears to a stalk, and a gourd full of shelled corn on the top."

CURE FOR IMPUDENCE.—A city buck visited the Shakers at Lebanon some time since, and as he was wandering through the village, he encountered a stout, hearty specimen of the sect, and thus accosted him:

"Well, Broadbrim, are you much of a Shaker?" "Nay," said the other, "not much, but I can do a little that way." So he seized the astonished man by the collar and nearly shook him out of his boots.

A broker, not long ago, when escorting home a fair damsel asked her what sort of money she liked best. Of course the blushing beauty instantly suggested matri-mony. What interests does it bring?" inquired the man of current iunds and western wildest documents. "If properly i vested," faltered the fair charmer, "if properly in vested it will double the original tock every two years."

Herschel's Weather Table

For foretelling the Weather, through all the Lunations of each Year, for ever.

This table and the accompanying remarks are the result of many years' actual observation, the whole being constructed on a due consideration of the attraction of the sun and moon, in their several positions respecting the earth, and will by simple inspection show the observer what kind of weather will most probably follow the entrance of the moon into any of its quarters, and that so near the truth as to be seldom or never found to fail.

the full moon or last quarter happens.	IN SUMMER.	IN WINTER.
		Hard frost unless wind S. or W.
-2 and 4 morning
-4 and 6 "	Rain	Rain.
6 and 8 "	Wind and rain	Stormy.
8 and 10 "	Changeable	Cold ain if wind W., snow if E.
	Frequent showers
At 12 and 2 afternoon	Very rainy	Snow or rain.
2 and 4 * "	Changeable	Fair and mild.
	Fair	Fair.
6 and 8 "	Fair if wind N. W	Fair & frosty if wind N. or N. E.
8 and 10 "	Rainy if S. or S. W	Rain or snow if S. or S. W.
10 and midnight	Fair	Fair and frosty.

Observations.—1. The nearer the time of the moon's change, first quarter, full, and last quarter, are to midnight, the fairer will be the weather during the seven days following.

2. The space for this calculation occupies from ten at night till two next morning.

If the new moon, first quarter,

3. The nearer to midday or noon, the phases of the moon happens, the more foul or wet weather may be expected during the next seven days.

- 4. The space for this calculation occupies-from ten in the forenoon to two in the afternoon. These observations refer principally to the summer, though they affect spring and autumn nearly in the same ratio.
- 5. The moon's change, first quarter, full and last quarter, happening during six of the afternoon hours, i. e., from four to ten, may be followed by fair weather; but this is mostly dependent on the wind, as is noted in the table.
- 6. Though the weather, from a variety of irregular causes, is more uncertain in the latter part of autumn, the whole of winter, and the beginning of spring, yet in the main, the above observations will apply to those periods also.

7. To prognosticate correctly, especially in those cases where the wind is concerned, the observer should be within sight of a good vane, where the four cardinal points of the heavens are correctly placed.
